No. G. 3183—Ft. 120-36-2, dated 17th November 1936.

The villagers of Dodderi, Honnali Taluk, are permitted to graze their cattle free during the grazing season (June to December) in the Haramaghatta State Forest constituted as such in Government Notification No. 849—Ft. 123-08-9, dated 26th June 1909.

No. D. 3302—P. & T. 12-36-2, dated 19th November 1936.

The following memorandum No. W. L. 100-74, dated 20th July 1936, of the Deputy Director-General, Wireless, is published for the information of the Public:—

Non-Commercial (Experimental) Wireless Transmitting License.

1. The issue of Experimental licenses is governed at present by the following rules:—
 - (1) No application will be considered unless it is accompanied by the approval of the Local Government of the Province in which it is proposed to instal the licensed apparatus.
 - (2) The Director-General will not grant a license unless he is satisfied:—
 - (a) that the applicant is not less than 21 years of age and has furnished satisfactory evidence as to character and the objects for which he requires a license. Applications from bona-fide experimenters between the ages of 16 and 21 will be considered if accompanied by a declaration from the head of the educational establishment attended by the applicant, or from his legal guardian that the applicant is a fit and proper person interested in and competent to conduct experiments in wireless telegraphy;
 - (b) that the applicant has in view some definite object of scientific value or public utility. If research or experiment is intended, the applicant should be certified by a Government Department or some recognised scientific body as a person competent to conduct such research or experiment;
 - (c) that the applicant can show that he is or the persons he proposes to employ are, capable of working the apparatus for the objects for which he requires a license;
 - (d) that if the apparatus is to be used for the transmission of messages or signals using an antenna, the applicant undertakes to employ in this work only certified operators of the number and class required;
 - (e) that the apparatus is capable of being worked in accordance with the provisions of the license.
 - (3) Spark transmission is not permitted if the apparatus is to be used with an antenna.
2. It has now been decided that no person will be permitted to operate the transmitter of an experimental wireless station unless he holds either a Non-Commercial Operating Certificate, as described below, or a Certificate of Competency as Wireless Operator, First Class, Second Class or Special, as prescribed in the Indian Wireless Telegraphy Rules, 1933. Before existing Non-Commercial Wireless Licenses are renewed, licensees may be required either to qualify themselves or to provide a qualified operator.
3. To obtain a Non-Commercial Operating Certificate a candidate will be required:—
 - (a) to pass a test in International Morse sending and receiving on tone signals (buzzer) at sixteen words per minute in clear English, each group of five characters constituting one word. The receiving test will last for five minutes, the transmitting test three minutes, the number of errors in each not to exceed ten per cent of the number of characters; formation of signals must be satisfactory and handwriting clear and legible;

- (b) to have a general knowledge of operating procedure and the regulations regarding prevention of interference, vide in particular, Art. 8 of the General Radio Communication Regulations of Madrid and Section XXXI, paragraphs 1-17 of Indian Wireless Instructions, 1934.

4. The fee for the examination for a Non-Commercial Operating Certificate will be rupees five, and the examination will be held at the head-quarters of any postal circle under the orders of the Post Master-General. Detailed instructions regarding the examination will be forwarded on application to the office of the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs (Wireless Branch), New Delhi. The fee should not be forwarded until requested.

5. Applicants for Experimental Transmitting Licenses may also be required to undergo a test of their technical ability to adjust the apparatus and carry out the experimental work for which they require the license if they are unable to provide other satisfactory evidence of their capabilities. No fee will be charged for this test.
